Work as an individual or as a team. Everyone should be able to find and access all items on the list!

Find the Starter Guide section, which shares the research-backed, asset-based foundational principles for practitioners to know in order to best support Multilingual Learners. Read through it online or download the printable version to find the following:

- The definition and difference between the student labels: Dual Language Learner (DLL), English Learner (EL), and Multilingual Learner (ML).
- A response to the question: What is an asset-based approach to instruction for Multilingual Learners?
- An example of what families can do to support the multilingual development of their children.
- An explanation of the various language models available to support instruction of Multilingual Learners, including the “gold standard.”

Find the Strategies and Resources section of the Multilingual Learning Toolkit and locate the 11 instructional areas in which the Toolkit is organized. When you click the “Learn” button on each instructional area, you can explore two areas of interest: 1) Strategies in Action for Grade 2–3 classrooms and 2) lists of Evidence-based Strategies and Resources. The color purple notes that a particular resource is for Grades 2–3. Now, search the Strategies and Resources section to find the following:

- Three reflection questions about supporting bilingualism based on a lesson that Mr. Ochoa teaches to put a strategy in action in his bilingual classroom.
- A description of the home-school connection project that Ms. Chamberlain incorporates as part of her strategy in action to build family engagement into a Producers to Consumers unit for second grade.
